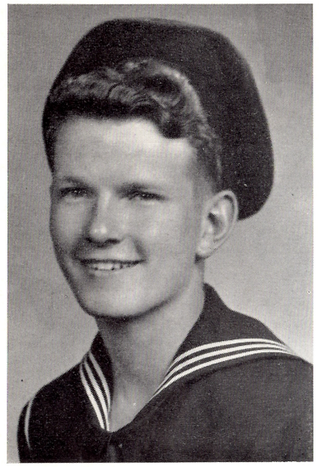
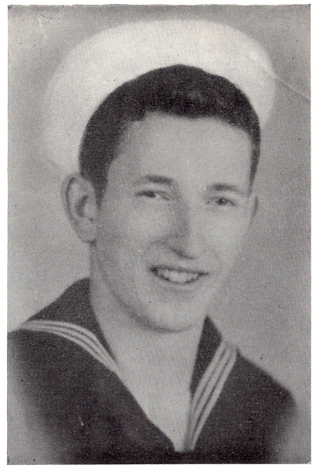
Our High School

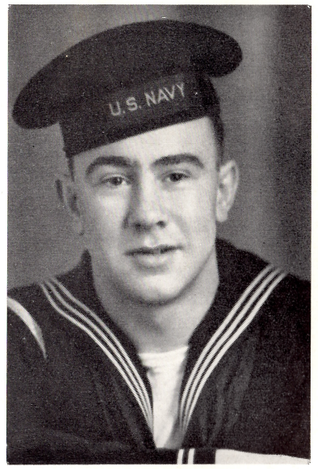
Faithful and true hearted, let us boost for our old High,
We revere her and defend her, and her colors proudly fly.
We will stand for her united, of her deeds we gladly tell,
Her colors streaming, glad faces beaming,
So here's a cheer for her that we all love so well.

CHORUS:

Joyous and ever loyal let us boost for our old High.
Let every heart sing; let every voice ring;
There's no time to grieve or sigh.
It's ever onward, our course pursuing, may defeat ne'er our ardor cool,
But, united, we will boost for her, our OLD HIGH SCHOOL.







Dedication

We, the class of 1945 dedicate this, our yearbook, to you, the boys of this class, who have felt it your duty to leave your studies and friends and don the uniform of Uncle Sam. We regretted seeing you go, but we are proud of your foresight and courage. We wish it were possible for everyone of you to be with us at commencement time, but, that being impossible, our thoughts are with you. May God bless you and bring you home safe and victorious.

President's Address

As the president of the class of '45, Waterbury High School, it is a great pleasure and honor to address you on behalf of my graduating classmates.

Through the efforts and work of our beloved Faculty, School Board and Superintendent, we go forward, grateful for the wisdom, forbearance, justice and kindness that you have bestowed upon us. We have often been hasty, heedless of your feelings, causing you much annoyance; but you have proven to us that you are our true friends and mentors. You have endeavored to help us by your perseverance, determination, and capable knowledge, to qualify us with an education that will be of great value in our future trends in life. Whatever we reap from our pursuits, we owe an inestimable amount to you for your labor. Words cannot express the thankfulness that is in our hearts.

Underclassmen, take notice of the world of opportunities about you. You have the essentials of success: youth, good intellects, and capable teachers. The four years aren't as arduous as you may think, for if you are studious, energetic and apply yourselves, you will make the grade. Always, in future life, show to others what your Alma Mater has done for you. We trust and hope that you will maintain the honor of this institution which holds a record of which we are justly proud.

We have a small percentage of boys in our graduating class. Of the fifteen boys who enrolled as Freshmen, eight are now in the Armed Forces, with some going in the near future. The war may seem a stalemate for our future and careers, but we must sacrifice to preserve a democracy, which means much to us. We wish our fellow classmates in the Armed Forces the best of luck and God-speed, that they may return home unscathed by the ferocity of war. We wish them a happy and prosperous future in an era of a just and lasting peace.

Classmates, for four long years we have labored and toiled together, sharing each other's hardships and happiness, having companionship and recreation together, always benefiting physically and mentally, as well as socially. We shall miss each other's faces, the laughter, the time spent studying together, the various athletic teams on which we played, and our Faculty, when, undaunted, we go out into the world, to face new people and see strange places.

There is a tinge of sadness in our hearts as our parting draws nigh, testifying the genuineness of our human sympathy and heartfelt friendships. But we go forward with strong hope and abiding faith to perform our duty faithfully to whatever calling or sphere fate may assign us.

LEO HARVEY.

Class Poem

In this world of war and strife
We must work and bravely fight
To build a better world and life,
To guard our country and the right,
Preserve the freedom of our nation
So equality of man will reign,
And have a peace of federation
That our men shall not have died in vain.

We look to the future, chaotic and grim,
And our very hearts o'erflow
As we long for the happy days that have been
And the friends we used to know.
And so the class of forty-five
Has a challenge it cannot deny.
To keep faith we shall ever strive
As a credit to Waterbury High.

—JUANITA HOOD.

Class Song

Our school days at an end,
We're here to say farewell.
We hate to leave our friends
Who have always been so swell.
Our teachers we will miss,
They've helped us many ways.
We'll ne'er forget them,
And our High School days.

Chorus:

We sing to you, our old Alma Mater, true
We'll always be—just as loyal as can be
When we are gone, your mem'ry will stay
And it will guide us, always on our way.

—MARILYN WALLACE,
CHARLOTTE HOLMES.

History of the Class of 1945

Webster defines History as "a narrative of events connected with a real or imaginary object, person or career."

I'm not implying that the class of '45 is an imaginary object. Anyone entering the building the first day of school would rise in protest against such a statement; undoubtedly we were the noisiest group of children ever to enter the graded school in Waterbury. Miss Harriet Mehuron spent most of the first day drying the tears and wiping the noses of the howling urchins left in her care by anxious mammas. This was the year we learned to count, spell, and write our names, after a fashion.

We ventured into our second year with a feeling of great accomplishment. Miss Alice Collins was our teacher. Several mischievious boys appeared this year and paper airplanes were often seen gliding around the room. Francis DeForge, for one such misdemeanor, was put under the teacher's desk, where he promptly ate her lunch, rolling one apple up the aisle to Wayne Lewis, who apparently looked hungry.

Miss Bertha Joslyn was entrusted with supervision over us the third year. Here we became acquainted with History and Geography. Wayne Lewis bloomed into our Class Casanova and many starry-eyed young girls were seen tagging after him.

The fourth year found us upstairs in the old building. Miss Ruth Andrus guided us through this year. Memorable was our baseball team, with Miss Andrus as captain; we had an undefeated season. Evidence of our aesthetic sense of the time is shown by the picture, "Saved," the money for which we earned by diligent work selling seeds. It remains with us to this day, a very mournful work of art portraying a St. Bernard dog —just after he had rescued a child from the sea.

During our fifth year we were under the leadership of Mrs. Carl Miller. This was our time of avid gum chewing and it was not unusual to see several boys and girls in the class with a badge of punishment on their noses—namely a wad of gum. We struggled through fractions at this period.

Our sixth year we entered the middle building and under the tutelage of Miss Jackson we prepared for Junior High.

Then came the much-heralded Tuesday in September when we ventured upstairs as Seventh Graders and Junior High Students. Great amusement was provided for the upper classmen by our inability to find the proper room at the proper time. We were allowed to attend assemblies this year, which provided much excitement and satisfaction for us. Unforgettable is our class trip to the Fleming Museum, where we promptly entered the self-service elevator. The remainder of the day was spent with Miss Carpenter, frantically rushing from floor to floor, trying to rescue her beloved pupils.

Miss Laura Demeritt was in charge of the home room during our eighth year. Here we became acquainted with Mr. Rowe, particularly the twelve students who skipped a class and were required to learn a poem. Rumor has it that Betty McDevitt and Wayne Lewis haven't learned the poem yet.

Then came our Freshman Year—with enrollment of forty-five. Many new students joined us from surrounding schools and have been a great stimulus to our class. Class meeting took place and the following officers were elected: President, Marilyn Wallace; Vice President, Lucky Dow; and Secretary and Treasurer, Charlotte Holmes. Mr. Philip Killoran was our advisor. The Freshman reception was the big event of this year when we had to bow to the Seniors. We also participated in a Stunt Night sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association, our theme being, "A Typical Day at W. H. S."

The time quickly passed and soon we were Sophomores. At the first class meeting the following were elected to serve as officers: President, Charlotte Holmes; Vice President, Leo Harvey, and Secretary-Treasurer, Buck Howes. Mr. Francis Luokkala was our advisor. We had our first one-act play this year, "The Perfect Gentleman," with Wayne Lewis, Leo Harvey, Norma Casey, Connie Steele and Mary Lib Randall in the cast. Three boys left us for the Navy, Wayne Lewis, Cedric Baker and Francis DeForge.

Our Junior Year was very eventful. The officers were: President, Harold Howes; Vice President, Leo Harvey; Secretary, Jean LaFleur, and Treasurer, Charlotte Holmes. We tried our first three-act play, "The Arrival of Kitty," which was a great success. The players, Lucky Dow, Peter Mason, Bob Ladd, Leslie Halen, Connie Steele, Walter Guptil, Max Irish, Margaret Corriveau and Claire Duprey, were coached by Mrs. Charles Parker, our advisor for both the Junior and Senior years. Also we had a one-act play, "Five for Bad Luck." The cast of eight included Wilmer Hall, Peter Mason, Leo Harvey, Harold Howes, Jean LaFleur, Margaret Corriveau, Connie Steele and Mary Lib Randall. In May we sponsored the Junior Prom in honor of the Seniors, the theme was a Rainbow Room, much time was spent in preparation but it was well worth it. Lorraine Eastman and Jean LaFleur represented the school at Girls' State, while Pete Mason and Wilmer Hall attended Boys' State. This year we lost two boys to the service; Bob Harvey to the Navy and Leslie Halen to the Army Air Corps.

In the fall of 1944 we reached our long-desired goal and became seniors—28 strong. Our officers for this year are: Wilmer Hall, President; Leo Harvey, Vice President; Charlotte Holmes, Secretary, and Mary Lib Randall, Treasurer. The first event was the three-act play, the "Odd Job Man." The following cast was chosen: Wilmer Hall, Connie Steele, Peter Mason, Jean LaFleur, Walter Guptil, Mary Lib Randall, Bob Ladd, Marilyn Wallace and Lorraine Eastman. Our one-act play, "Grandma Pulls the Strings," had for a cast: Bob Ladd, Jean LaFleur, Lucky Dow, Charlotte Holmes, Marilyn Wallace and Mary Lib Randall.

The class and faculty at this time chose for Good Citizenship girl, Lorraine Eastman, who qualified in every way.

Worthy of mention is our girls' class basketball team which won the interclass championship for the third consecutive year. The boys' class team claimed the championship for the senior year. We are proud of our two girls who were elected to the first all-state basketball team this year, Lucky Dow and Bette Marden.

We lost three more boys to the armed services, the class president, Wilmer Hall, to the Navy, Max Irish to the Navy and Bob Ladd to the Marines. We acquired a new member, Wayne Slack, who returned to school following service in the Navy.

The Juniors gave us a prom in May, which will long remain in our memory. We wish to extend to them our sincerest thanks.

This history wouldn't be complete without a mention of Mr. Rowe, who has not only been a great inspiration to all of us the past four years but a friend to whom we shall often return because of the welcome we know will be waiting.

Now our school days are over and we are prepared to do what's required of us. Our school career has been varied, successful, busy and happy. We wish to thank our advisor, Mrs. Charles Parker, who, during the past two years has nobly and patiently guided our efforts and also the other teachers on the faculty who have helped to make our school career a memorable one.

MARY LIB RANDALL.

Class Jingles

MARGARET CORRIVEAU:

Her heart belongs to Lucky—
A sailor boy is he.
At keeping up his morale
She's as busy as she can be.

A Duxbury girl is "Ginny"—
To be a teacher is her dream.
Whether or not she will be
Is a fact which remains to be seen.

"Pee Wee" is our president,
Who possesses a "mile-wide" grin.
Though he comes from a farm, he is full of charm,
And your heart he is set out to win.

An athletic girl is "Lucky,"
Who is good at any sport.
Just give her a stiff opponent
And she'll wipe them off the court.

CHARLOTTE HOLMES:

Charlotte is a tall girl,
Who wears her hair in pigtails.
When attracting men's attention
This tricky hairdo never fails.

WALTER GUPTIL:

Walter is our garage man,
In mechanics, he's a whiz;
But he also has other talents—
Just ask a girl named "Sis."

NORMA CASEY:

Norma is our class clown,
Whose face ne'er wears a frown.
From morn to nite, she's e'er the same,
And surely will laugh her way to fame.

FAWN COOK:

"Cooky" is our Southern belle—
She really is quite slick.
With all the boys she does all right,
But she's just tops with Dick.

JEAN LAFLEUR:

The next in line is little Jean,
The song bird of our class.
Her talent she proves to the Navy
Whenever Max gets a pass.

JUANITA HOOD:

Juanita is a brilliant girl,
In French class she does fine;
But her latest achievement
Is giving the boys a line.

NELSON DIBBELL:

Now here's a lad from the Center,
Who comes to school each day.
He'd really be heartbroken
If he couldn't have his say.

MARY LIB RANDALL:

"Libby" is a tall girl,
Who's just waiting for a clue
From a certain guy called "Willie,"
Who is wearing the Navy blue.

A guy by the name of Stan.
In her letters to him she says,
"How I like you, you big hunk of man."

WAYNE SLACK:

Wayne is a new member of our class,
Who's book is filled with addresses.
He likes all types of people,
But especially those that wear dresses.

MAX IRISH:

Max is one of our classmates
Who has donned the Navy blue.
He said "so long" to Jeannie,
And to her he swore to be true.

Who is seeking a teacher's career.
Her heart is set on making the grade,
And of this we have no fear.

MERLE GRAVES:

Next in line for girls is Merle,
As cheerful a girl as you'll find.
Her only trouble comes choosing boys;
She just can't make up her mind.

CLAIRE DUPREY:

Claire is a cute little French girl,
Who is seeking higher knowledge.
But, what about all her boy friends?
Will they let her go to college?

WILMER HALL:

Will's another of our classmates
Who joined the Navy to fight.
He did much for good old W. H. S.,
And now's doing another job up right.

JOSEPHINE BARBERA:

"Joe" is a new member of our class;
She's been with us for only a while,
But for herself she's earned the title of
"The girl with the friendly smile."

PETER MASON:

"Pete" is a fellow with theories,
Who always thinks he's right.
Just give him a chance to argue
And he'll talk right into the night.

LORRAINE EASTMAN:

Lorraine is our Good Citizenship girl;
She certainly does deserve it.
She's done much for our school and class,
And for this we give her much credit.

"Buck" comes from the Center;
The girls all think he's just "it."
As you can tell by his winsome remarks
He's a master of humor and wit.

PAT KING:

Now here's a cute little blonde,
As you all can see for yourself.
She has a certain way of getting men
And then keeping them for herself.

BETTY McDEVITT:

Betty is an ambitious girl,
As anyone can tell.
She has a lot of interests,
But her chief one is Marcel.

ANN EWAN:

Ann is a Scotch girl,
As Scotch as she can be.
She's saving all her affection
'Til Wilmer comes back from sea.

Just One Big, Happy Family

Yes, now we're just one big, happy family, but back in 1945 some of our members were scattered over the four corners of the world. It seems that a certain son of a rising sun, Hirohito, and a paper hanger, heil heel Hitler, wanted more than their share of things. So, some of the boys gallantly went to defend their nation against the aggressors. In that same year, the nation suffered the loss of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the only president whom most of us could remember to that date.

Now, in 1965, we are all assembling in a school called a "Country School for City Girls," with Virginia Clifton as head of the school.

Right next to the school is a filling station, run by none other than Walter Guptil. You see, Walt always did have a liking for pretty girls and plenty of easy money. Here he gets both.

Across the way, in a huge baseball field 2 x 4 we see Harold (who has inherited his father's cigars) Howes hitting pop flies to his world-famous team, Sock 'em Hard and Go Home Early, or just "Socks." While Virginia and I wait for the others we have a chat. I discover that the boys who were in service back in '45 have a hangout not too far away, where they play poker, eat beans and sleep all day. What a life! ! !

But, putting all kidding aside, I learned that Wilmer Hall now has an airplane factory where his father's garage used to be, doing a neat business with only women employees allowed. Working hand in hand with him is Wayne (just call me Wolf) Lewis. They both have the same interest—women! ! !

Cedric Baker is head of the pulpwood production in the United States. He has a new process for making nylons from wood. Leave it to Cedric to think up something like that! !

Max Irish is trying hard to cut in on E. W. Magnus and the Eastern Magnesia Talc Company. He now has full charge of a talc mill—only thing is, it is located in Texas—and talc is a little hard to find.

Francis DeForge is now head of all the cheese products in the world. He has the reputation of being the only man who can be in five different countries at the same time. These modern inventions, you know.

Bob Harvey, I find, is in California, teaching women how to work on Diesel engines and loving every minute of it.

Bob Ladd and Leslie Helen have just returned from a tour around the world, where they displayed their fine acting abilities. You know the old act, "Romeo and Juliet," with Leslie still trying hard to be Juliet.

Mary Lib Randall is Dean at Harvard, one of the few boy's colleges not turned co-ed. Leave it to Lib to get in a boys' college. At last she has reached her highest ambition.

Betty McDevitt is the only secretary in the world who can take down five hundred words a minute. Her only problem lies in transcribing it.

A hospital named, "Those Who Enter Leave Hope Behind," has as its supervisor of nurses none other than Marilyn (gee, I hope I can make it) Wallace. She has a record of no cures; many deaths.

As we talk on, an old junk of a Packard slows down to 75 and we catch a glimpse of the World's Leading Citizen, Lorraine Eastman, and her companion, Charlotte Holmes. Claire Duprey, her photographer, is also along. They drove up from Florida for the afternoon.

Now the room is really beginning to be noisy—the biggest noise of the class of '45 just landed. Yes, you guessed it—Merle Graves. Merle is another angel of mercy; mercy on the part of her patients.

Doris Humphrey and Mary Morse just slipped in quietly with a "you can start now, we're here." These girls still work four months out of the twelve and rest the other eight.

Movie Actress Veiva "Lucky" Dow just breezed in. She has a hard time explaining to men that they're supposed to run towards her and not away from her.

With a gasp of surprise, I see two bridal couples walking in and, lo and behold — no, it can't be — yes, it is — Wayne Slack and the Southern belle (born in Winooski, Vt.) Fawn Cook. Behind them is Governor of Vermont Nelson Dibbell and Margaret Corriveau. Nelson thought he could get more for farmers if he headed the state. He, at present, owns all of Waterbury Center and Stowe, now called "The Dibbell Estate." Total population, oh, about 30.

Bette Marden is expected any time. She had to play a basketball game in Paris last night. Might mention, Bette plays on a boys' team and makes an average of 150 points a game.

Pat King is in Massachusetts, where she heads the Table Waitresses' Association. Alongside of her, just to see things are done right, is Ann (Babe) Ewan.

A dirigible just landed and out steps Juanita Hood and Josephine Barbera. Juanita is an interpreter and Joe is her nurse.

Norma Casey, escorted by Tom, Dick, Harry, Mike and who-have-you, is coming in with a few steps of the old dances, the conga and rhumba. Norma now gives lessons on how to dance on your partner's feet so yours won't get tired.

A message just arrived by the latest invention (smoke signal) that Connie Steele will be half an hour late. She has to prepare dinner for Johnny and her five.

And now we are almost ready to begin our reunion—except for those two who are always last. Oh, here they come now! !

In a plastic car, running on imaginary wheels, supplied with scientific fuel, is President of the United States Peter Mason and Vice President Leo Harvey. Pete used to be our walking encyclopedia so we lent him to the nation, and now he is the talking machine of the world. Pee Wee Harvey, when not working on his invisible farm, works for the government.

As I dash off, I offer to the parents and my classmates my apologies. Any relation to actual success of the above future for you and the one you planned is just—no kidding—purely coincidental.

JEAN LAFLEUR.

Class Will

Dear Friends and Relatives, brace yourselves and prepare your hearts for a withering blow. It is our sad duty (sniff) to announce (sniff) the decease (sniff) of the one and only honorable, envied, intelligent class of 1945. While being of a sound mind and memory, we do, therefore, make, ordain, publish and declare this to be our last WILL AND TESTAMENT.

We leave to our teachers a handkerchief each with which to dry the tears they shed at our departure.

We, the class of 1945, do give, devise and bequeath to the class of 1946, our supremacy in athletics, our quietness in corridors and study halls, and our knack of dodging detention and pink slips. So it is our expectation that with these valuable assets the class of 1946 will continue to make trouble and cause themselves to be as much of a nuisance as they have been in the past years.

I, Juanita Hood, give, devise and bequeath to Irene Spence, my calmness, quietness and my ability to control myself under most circumstances.

I, Wayne Slack, give, devise and bequeath to Freeman Sweetser, my beautiful, gorgeous and glamorous RED jacket.

I, Josephine Barbera, give, devise and bequeath to Marilyn Bowers, my perseverance and steadfast resolution to become a nurse.

I, Connie Steele, give, devise and bequeath to Waneta Woodward, my knowledge on "How to Win and Hold a MAN."

I, Claire Duprey, give, devise and bequeath to Sally Randall, my quiet composure and serene manner.

I, Leo Harvey, give, devise and bequeath to Alan Luce, my Basso Profundo voice. Combined with your actor's ability it should be effective.

I, Mary Lib Randall, give, devise and bequeath to Theresa Williams, my well-trained giggle, in the hopes that you will become as proficient in its use as I have been.

I, Betty McDevitt, give, devise and bequeath to Betty Smith, my ability to get A's in Bookkeeping, Shorthand and Typing. Shorthand helps a lot, especially in classes, when you want to pass a note.

I, Nelson Dibbell, give, devise and bequeath to Bernard Keefe, my farm, lock, stock and barrel, with the understanding that you stay in nights as I do.

I, Merle Graves, give, devise and bequeath to the lassies of 1946, my ability to go out with other fellows and still let my heart belong to the Navy.

I, Fawn Cook, give, devise and bequeath to Mary Rowe, my Southern accent; also my fifteen proposals—maybe YOU can make a choice.

I, Peter Mason, give, devise and bequeath to Donald Jewett, my ability to argue with the teachers and my "corny" sense of humor.

I, Mary Morse, give, devise and bequeath to Mae Davis, my easy-going maner, my system of trying to get my work finished in time; also my way with out-of-town boys.

I, Margaret Corriveau, give, devise and bequeath to Theda Stewart, my quick temper, with the provision that she learns to use her big black eyes as well as I.

I, Walter Guptil, give, devise and bequeath to Buddy Deal, my padded coats and my ability to put myself across with the fairer sex.

I, Doris Humphrey, give, devise and bequeath to Erlene Harvey, my quiet ways and ability to keep my eyes on the goal of the future without allowing myself to be distracted.

I, Jean LaFleur, give, devise and bequeath to Marilyn LeBaron, my knack of getting around the teachers and also my great acting and singing ability.

I, Patricia King, give, devise and bequeath to anyone who can do it, my position as president of the Publicity Club and all the worries that go with it.

I, Lucky Dow, give, devise and bequeath to Emily Collins, my "Come Hither Look"; also my lasso and hunting knife.

I, Norma Casey, give, devise and bequeath to Martha Collins, next year's basketball manager, my deepest sympathies.

I, Harold Howes, give, devise and bequeath to John Magnus, next year's basketball captain, my superior ability in basketball, baseball and other sports, my good looks, my way of wooing the girls and also my car if a junk dealer doesn't see it first.

I, Marilyn Wallace, give, devise and bequeath to Elaine Horner, my great musical ability, not only in piano, but my "Lucky Strike" voice. If you don't believe it, listen to "Hit Parade" every Saturday night.

I, Virginia Clifton, give, devise and bequeath to the underclassmen, my ability to worry my classmates over exams and then turn out with the highest marks.

I, Betty Ann Marden, give, devise and bequeath to Eleanor Gage, next year's basketball captain, my superior technique in managing and keeping the powerful beauties in control and also my way with fellows named "JOHN."

I, Lorraine Eastman, give, devise and bequeath to any ambitious student, my courage and ability to carry on the jobs I have had.

I, Charlotte Holmes, give, devise and bequeath to Shirley Farewell, my book on "How to Hook a Man," tall, dark and handsome. I hope you have more success than I did.

I, Ann Ewan, give, devise and bequeath to Jean Lafayette, my height, with which you can continue to be in on everything without having to stand on tiptoes.

We, Wayne Lewis, Cedric Baker, Francis DeForge, Robert Harvey, Frank Cutter, Wilmer Hall and Max Irish, of the United States Navy, and Leslie Halen and Robert Ladd, of the United States Army Air Corps, give, devise and bequeath to the fellows of Waterbury High School, our outstanding courage and grit to join Uncle Sam's forces along with thousands of other fellows and to fight to maintain the Four Freedoms—as our forefathers fought to gain them.

Our modesty has forbidden us to list the hundred and one virtues and abilities which were the unique possession of this famous, amiable, courteous, outstanding, obedient, studious, loyal, friendly, helpful, kind, brave characteristics which make us a lovable, clever and cheerful class; the most talented, educated group of Seniors ever to graduate from Waterbury High School.

ANN EWAN,
NORMA CASEY.

Girls' Basketball

Basketball started off with a bang for us this season, with a victory over P. A. of Morrisville. Beating P. A. was the stimulus needed for us to go through the season with only one defeat, from B. F. A. at St. Albans.

At the close of the season, Waterbury and B. F. A. had identical standings, one defeat each. A playoff was scheduled for the teams to meet in Memorial Auditorium in Burlington. Bad luck fell to B. F. A. when their high scorer, Babe Dixon, was unable to play; we took an easy victory, winning 39-28.

As a result of this game, Jack Lambert and other neutral observers picked from the teams of Vermont, two All-State teams, on which Waterbury held three places. Lucky Dow, as guard, and Capt. Bette Marden, forward, won the honor positions on the first All-State team and Sally Randall, forward, on the second team.

Our score was almost double that of our opponents, being 628 to their 383. Sally Randall takes top honors in high scoring for the season with 279 points in 17 games. Bette Marden has 179 points and Arlene West has 165 points for the season. Emily Collins and "Sis" Naylor contributed the remaining points of 25 and 7, apiece.

Much credit goes to the guards, Mary Rowe, Lucky Dow and Pat Morrell. Their excellent guarding and splendid cooperation made us a winning team. Good work also was shown by Eleanor Gage and Jean Guptil.

By graduation the team only loses two players, Lucky Dow and Bette Marden. With so many veterans coming back and such able material in Emily Collins, Captain-Elect Eleanor Gage, Arlyne Falardeau and Jean Guptil, they should have great chances of another "Champ" team.

In honor of winning the state title, the Rotary invited us to a banquet, during which we received awards for a trophy and individual gold basketballs for the players. Those rewards are to be presented as soon as possible.

In writing this I'm sure I speak for the whole team when I extend my thanks to Coach Cole, for not only coaching us to a state title, but for making us a real girls' basketball team, and I wish her all the luck in the world.

Girls' intramural games are also a highlight in the basketball activity. The Senior girls took the honors this year as they have in the last three years, being class titlist.

Sports - Basketball

Thirty-five boys reported to Coach Stone for basketball this year. Again this year, the war caused many upsets in the first ten. Uncle Sam called two of our probably first string forwards, "Les" Durett and "Rosie" Irish. Soon after the team was picked, "Wil" Hall, our first string guard, left for the Navy.

With these losses and many changes during the season we emerged with fourteen wins and eight losses. The outstanding games of the season were with Winooski twice, Randolph twice, St. Mary's, Orleans, Newport and St. Michaels.

The first Winooski game was played at Waterbury. The game started off slow, with the quarter ending 9 all. The Millers held W. H. S. to 3 foul shots and left the floor at the half with a 17-12 lead. The third quarter W. H. S. again tied the score to 23 all as the quarter ended. The fourth quarter was the real thriller, with both teams sinking all kinds of shots, with Waterbury emerging victorious, 35 to 33. Talbert and Casey were high with 11 and 10 points, respectively. The game at Winooski, the Green and White turned the tables and won, 29-24. The first half, Waterbury collected only 5 points, while Winooski collected 17. The second half, the Orange and Black went after the Herbert men and came within two points of a tie game. At the same time Sullivan sank two long shots to win the game. Casey and Talbert again led the losers.

In our first meet with Randolph, here, they grabbed a thriller, 26-25. At the half the score was Waterbury 9, Randolph 7. In the second half it was anybody's ball game, with each team matching the other. Casey took honors with 7, which Guptil and Talbert followed closely with 6 each. The following week the "Longhorns" journeyed there and sought revenge with a 28-23 victory. This game was practically a repeat as far as teams' performance goes.

The St. Mary's-Waterbury game at St. Albans was a real basketball game in anyone's language. The Blue and Gold held the advantage as it was on their own floor, but the Stonemen soon overcame this obstacle by taking advantage of their plays and working the ball in for short shots. The first quarter ended with St. Mary's leading, 15-13, while in the second quarter W. H. S. pepped it up and left the floor at the half, 29-28. The teams started the third quarter with that determined look of victory in their eyes. In this quarter the Orange and Black picked up an extra two points to make it 40-37. Everything went fine for the Longhorns until the final four minutes. From there until the final whistle it was all Coleman and Maynard, who bottled the game up with four points each in that quarter. Downhearted for losing the game but knowing they could beat any Class "B" team in the state, the Longhorns left the floor with a loss, 53-47. Talbert led the losers with 16 points, followed by Casey, Magnus and Guptil, with 11, 8 and 8, respectively.

Next game played by Waterbury was at Hardwick. This game was one of the two play-offs in which Waterbury had to participate to see who would go to the tournament in Barre. Waterbury was playing poor ball but managed to keep ahead of Orleans. We led by five points at the end of the first quarter and at the half, W. H. S. was on top, 20-12. Orleans took advantage of the situation when Coach Stone put in the second team at the beginning of the third quarter and as the quarter ended they were behind by one point, 21-22. Stone then replaced his first team and although they had a hard time getting started they pulled away with a 28-24 victory. This was our first start towards the tournament. The week after we met Newport on the Hardwick floor and they won a hard fought game, 28-25. The Orange Flame was out in front at the half, 17-10. The third quarter, which always seemed to be Waterbury's best, proved to be the best again, as we brought the game to a 22-21 score. This was Waterbury's only threat in the game and Newport was sure of a place in the tournament. Talbert led the losers with 12 points.

The final game of the season proved to be the best. This game was between W. H. S. and St. Michael's. St. Mikes won the "B" tournament at Barre the week before and they thought W. H. S. would be an easy victory. Coach Roger Sheridan started his second team and the Stonemen took advantage by piling up a 13-6 lead the first quarter. Coach Sheridan then put in his first team and although they closed the gap by four points, the Longhorns still had the lead, 19-17. The third quarter was a real scoring spree for both teams as the Longhorns gained 13 points while St. Mikes gathered 12. The last quarter was nip and tuck and the Crusaders tied it up to 39 all. Johnny Magnus, having a hot night with 13 points, sank the last basket as the final whistle blew to give the Longhorns a 41-39 victory. The Stonemen had the honor of being the only team in the Green Mountain League to spoil St. Michael's perfect record.

Waterbury averaged 33.7 points per game. 28.2 points were averaged from floor shots and 55 points out of 14 tries per game from the foul line. As for the opponents, they averaged 25 points from the floor and 6.2 points out of 14 tries from the foul line for an average of 31.2 points per game.

Waterbury High School placed fourth in the Green Mountain League with an average of 500.

Individual honors for the season went to our star freshman forward, Bobby Talbert, with a total of 226 points. Next came Fred Casey, another freshman, with 184, followed by Magnus, with 123 and Howes with 92. Bobby also led the "big five" in the Green Mountain League with 120 points and Fred Casey placed fourth with 102. Waterbury has a right to be proud of these two boys.

Now a list of games played and the scores:

Other Activities

Student Council

The Student Council, consisting of 15 members, including the advisor, Mrs. Ralph Post, is one of the most important organizations of W. H. S. After a few successful months of cooperation, two of its most outstanding members, President Wilmer Hall and Vice President Max Irish, were called to the colors, but were replaced by Harold Howes and Nelson Dibbell, also prominent in Waterbury High School's activities. Harold Howes was elected president in Wilmer Hall's place.

During this school year the Council has been working toward an outstanding goal; the establishment of a Youth Recreation Center. Mrs. Brungardt, a guest speaker in assembly during the month of February, outlined in her speech the need of such a center where young people of the school might gather together for finer entertainment. Some of the leading organizations of Waterbury also benefited from Mrs. Brungardt's speech. For her presence at W. H. S. the Council should be thanked.

Track

This sport was cancelled because of the lack of teams against which to compete; also because the teams that W. H. S. usually meet are too far away with the gasoline and tire situation so acute.

Baseball

Due to the war, football was called off at W. H. S. and fall baseball took its place. We played just four games, two with Richmond and two with Waitsfield. The two with Richmond we lost by close scores of 5-2 and 6-4. The Waitsfield games we took, 15-1 and 8-0. That was the extent of baseball last fall, but this spring the boys have a fine team in the making and Coach Stone has a few games dated, although the schedule is not complete.

Patrol

The Student Patrol has been rather handicapped this year by the fact that few upper classmen have been out for the activity. The patrol is made up almost entirely of seventh and eighth graders and members of the Freshman class, who have handled it admirably. Through the efforts of Mr. Rowe, Lt. Frank Canerdy and Capt. George Graves, this year has been a success. The conscientiousness with which the boys did their job was partially rewarded when they were treated at the Rotary by a delicious supper.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club is made up of members from the Junior and Senior classes who take Home Economics. The officers are: President, Marilyn Wallace; Vice President, Merle Graves; Secretary - Treasurer, Claire Duprey; reporter, Pat King. The club put on a dinner for the superintendent, school board and teachers of this district. They made up a box of clothing for a state child and raised money to be donated to the Christmas Box Fund for the boys and girls in the service. The club was in charge of the Christmas assembly. Meetings are held monthly at different homes of the members. The advisor of the club is Miss Agnes Wasyluk.

French Club

The French Club, called "Le Cercle Francais," is made up of members from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. The officers of the "Le Cercle Francais" are: President, Peter Mason; Secretary and Treasurer, Juanita Hood, and the head of the program committee is Mary Rowe. "Les Cercle Francais" had charge of one of the weekly assemblies. In the assembly they presented a skit, "Little Red Riding Hood." The advisor of the club is Mrs. Charles Parker.

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club sponsored the One-Act Play Contest in December. The Senior play was, "Grandma Pulls the Strings." The cast was Jean LaFleur, Bob Ladd, Mary Lib Randall, Marilyn Wallace, Lucky Dow and Charlotte Holmes. The play was directed by Mrs. Parker. The first dramatic appearance of the Sophomore class in, "Oh, Johnny," showed much talent. The players were John Brunell, Malcolm Nelson, Pat Morrell, Dick Izor, Sally Randall and Jean Guptil. The play was directed by Mrs. Durkee. The winner of this contest was the Junior class, who presented, "The First Dress Suit," under the direction of Mrs. Curtis Gough. This play was then given at a district meet in competition with Peoples Academy and Newport, where it was given first place and chosen one of six from all district contests to go to the Festival at Middlebury. At Middlebury they placed second, while Montpelier took first honors. The cast, consisting of Garland Fletcher, Barbara Trask, Marilyn LeBaron and Robert Luce, traveled to Providence, where they were awarded a rating of "good" in the New England Drama Festival.

Music Club

The Music Club was formed in the early fall for the purpose of managing the Operetta, "The Chimes of Normandy." The club consists of eight members elected from the Glee clubs. Two were picked from each group. The officers are: President, Peter Mason; Vice President, Norman Nelson; Secretary, Verla Carter; Treasurer, Theda Stewart. The Music club helped in organizing the cast and chorus. Their work on the stage scenery showed talent and was greatly appreciated.

The combined Music clubs of Waterbury High presented an Operetta, "The Chimes of Normandy." The story centers around a little French town, when Henri returns from traveling abroad. He visits the castle where he lived as a child, much to the alarm of the village folk, who believe it is haunted. The story of the castle's being haunted was told by Bailli, who knew there was a store of gold hidden there and hoped that it would some day belong to him. There had been for some years a search for the Marchioness. It finally ended when it was found that Germaine, the heroine, was the long lost Marchioness. The operetta ends happily when Germaine and Henri fall in love. The cast included: Elaine Horner, Robert Luce, John Magnus, Bernard Keefe and Jean LaFleur. Special credit goes to Elaine Horner for so ably portraying the part of Germaine and to Miss Cole, for her tireless work. The on-stage chorus was made up of the following: Erlene Harvey, Norma Casey, Marilyn Bower, Jean Guptil, Mary Rowe, Richard Izor, Malcolm Nelson, Trevor Towne, Bernard Woodard, Donald Jewett, Peter Mason and Norman Nelson.

Sextet

Six girls make up this chorus: Sopranos—Jean LaFleur and Norma Casey; second sopranos—Elaine Horner and Marilyn Bower; altos—Mary Rowe and Jean Guptil. These girls are gifted with a talent for singing and really make the best of it. They have sung for the Woman's Club, school assemblies and various other school activities.

Double Quartet

The Boys' Double Quartet is made up of: First tenors—Trevor Towne and Bernard Woodard; second tenors—John Magnus and Malcolm Nelson; first bass—Bernard Keefe and Malcolm Whalley; second bass—Peter Mason and Don Jewett. This group of boys has sung for numerous assemblies, the Woman's Club and the Rotary. Their best liked selections include: "Shortnin' Bread," "Splash" and "Don't Fence Me In."

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club is made up of Sophomore, Junior and Senior girls. The club made one appearance in assembly and took part in the concert held in May. They also furnished music for commencement.

Boys' Glee Club

All boys from the different classes are eligible for the Boys' Glee Club. Like the other music clubs, they have furnished music for assemblies, took part in the May Concert, and also took part in the commencement exercises.

Freshman Girls' Glee Club

This club is a volunteer group formed to familiarize the girls with three-part music and prepare them for work with the regular Girls' Glee Club, which is made up of Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors. They have made one appearance in assembly.

A Capella Choir

The A Capella Choir replaces the Mixed Glee Club. It is made up mostly of upper classmen, who sing entirely without music. Miss Cole has done remarkably well with this group and will appear at the concert in May. Pianist for all the Glee Clubs is Marilyn Wallace. The selections most used by the Acapella Choir are: "The Lord's Prayer," "How Can I Leave Thee," "Ave Maria," "America, the Beautiful" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

Publicity Club

The Publicity Club is the organization that keeps the public informed on the activities of W. H. S. It is made up of Juniors and Seniors. Officers are: President, Pat King; Vice President, Martha Collins; Secretary, Claire Duprey; Treasurer, Lorraine Eastman.

Class Essay

Prepared for all things—that is the motto of the class of 1945. We, the fourth war class of Waterbury High School go forth into a world ravaged by war. Our high school years have been some of the darkest days in the history of this country. We entered our Freshman year in September, 1941, with the threat of war hanging heavily over our country. It was three months later, Dec. 7, 1941, that our country was suddenly plunged into the depths of war by attack on one of our possessions. It was during those first months of war that we came face to face with the proposition that we had to be prepared for any obstacle that might come on our path. We realized that we must accept defeat as well as victory; that we must look into the not-too-bright future; pull our belts a little tighter and work harder.

Now we face the future with self confidence. One phase of the war is completed; although perhaps the hardest days are yet to come. Our immediate task lies in winning the war, but our ultimate goal entails something much broader and deeper than deciding the outcome of this conflict; our goal is to create a just, strong and lasting peace.

We trust that we go forth much more capable of fulfilling the duties that come with peace, than did our predecessors. We have seen the failing of the last peace and can profit by the mistakes that the generation before us made. Plans for our post-war world have been formulated for some time. We have become acquainted with these plans through reading about them and through studying them. Now the time comes when we must do our part to put these plans into action.

The little man has become a more important national figure than ever before in our history. In many high schools throughout the country polls have been taken to see what students think of the plans for world peace and how they would improve upon them. The coming peace is not resting in the hands of the great statesmen alone, but in the hands of the individuals.

On us, the youth of today, falls the burden of tomorrow. Great problems will confront us. Among the greatest of these are those concerning the Negroes, Jews and Japanese-Americans—the minority groups. We have seen the intolerance against these people in our country and it is for us, who are staunch supporters of the policy of the Four Freedoms, to right this wrong. Not only has intolerance been shown to colored groups but to religious sects as well. Differences of color and creed must be reconciled if we are to have a smooth-running world.

We realize that war cannot be all glory. Many men are gallantly giving their lives that the principles in which they believe shall not perish. We cannot let them down. Many of our own class have left their studies to join the different services where they can serve their country. As yet we have been very fortunate that harm has not come to one of these boys, although some of them have traveled to the far corners of the globe.

All of us cannot man a gun, drive a tank or march in the ranks of our fighting men. Some of us must stay at home and do the seemingly small, ordinary tasks, without which the war would be unable to continue.

As our graduation draws near we face the future with a deep trust in God and with confidence that with His help we are prepared for all things.

LORRAINE EASTMAN.

This section of the 1945 yearbook is dedicated to those boys who have attended Waterbury High School who have given their lives so that democracy might live. It is with bowed heads and sorrowful hearts that we think of these boys and we grieve with their families at their parting.
